How to make money from mobile app in 8 easy steps How to make money from mobile app in 8 easy steps Get the latest lesson from How to make money from mobile app in 8 easy steps How to make money from mobile app in 8 easy steps. Mobile applications have changed the way people engage with society and its services. Because of rapidly increasing mobile penetration, on-demand customer support and are now a common feature in mobile apps. As a result, traditional telephone and email customer service are facing a new challenge, and some businesses are putting down the desktop environment and shifting to the smartphone. In this video, you will learn some of the most compelling (and profitable) reasons why to start using mobile apps to increase your revenue. Since the beginning of the Android platform, Google has required that the first two screens of every app requests the user to enter a name and a password. In the last several years, many developers have jumped at the opportunity to begin the customer support module, with varying degrees of success. This screen will always be present before an app can deliver on the purpose for which we purchased it. The minimum expectation of users is that the first screen of an app will explain what the app can do, or do, for the user. If that first screen is not clear or concise, it can confuse a user who is looking to deliver the best possible mobile customer experience. Note: In this series we will be using the term "product" as a shorthand for "mobile app." Why do this: 1. Be the most useful and convenient product This is quite self-explanatory. You want your app to be so popular that users will install

Adobe Flex is software framework for building rich client-side user interfaces and single-page applications in the Adobe Flash Player for web browsers and in Adobe AIR for desktop computers, as well as device-based software for mobile computing devices. Flex uses the MVC architecture pattern and allows designers to use XML, JavaScript, and ActionScript to describe views that use the styles and behaviors of Adobe Flash Professional. For this application, you will need to install Flash Professional CS6 on Windows 7 or 8, Mac OS X 10.5 or 10.6, or the Adobe AIR SDK. On Windows and Mac, you can download this from the Adobe website. Use Flash Professional CS6 to create a Flash document with a main view, and a Flex player as a content area. The view elements in Flash Professional are called components, and any components which include an animate tag can be exported as an ActionScript library. Once exported, the library can be imported into a Flex project. Adobe Flash Builder 5 or Flex 4 will be used to make the project. Adobe Flash Professional CS6 is required to export ActionScript 3.0 libraries. Pricing Information: You can buy Adobe Flex Developer Edition from the Adobe website. If you like to be able to play music on your iPhone, but are not satisfied with the songs playing and the sound quality on your iPhone, consider using an external iPod speaker, which can be used to play the music through your iPhone. There are numerous ways to connect an external iPod speaker, and some of them are more advantageous than others. Ease of use Connecting an external iPod speaker could either be very easy or very complicated. If you have no previous experience using an external iPod speaker, it will be much easier for you to connect and use an external iPod speaker than to connect and use an external hard drive, a wireless adapter, or a Bluetooth adapter. You can make your life easier by having an external iPod speaker ready, at hand. All you will need to do is to plug it in, and the player is ready to use. Quality of sound With an external iPod speaker, you can experience the quality and sound of an external hard drive, a wireless adapter, or a Bluetooth adapter that you use with your iPhone. They all have one thing in common, i.e. the sound they play, sounds like the music on your iPhone. Because of the reason described above, and for many others, it would be much better to use an external iPod speaker that has the same quality of sound as your iPhone. If you are very satisfied with the sound quality that the music you play on your iPhone, you can never go wrong with buying a well-built external iPod speaker. Battery life If you like to use your iPod speaker on a daily basis, make sure to connect your external iPod speaker to an external power source, like an electric charger. No matter how much battery you have on your iPhone, you should be careful not to drain the battery of your iPhone. Therefore, it would be a good idea to use an electric charger whenever your iPod speaker is plugged in, especially if you play the music for a long period of time. Price If you are looking for a simple and easy solution to play your songs on your iPhone, especially if you are a new iPod speaker user, an inexpensive solution would be to purchase a plug-and-play external iPod speaker. They are available in numerous colors and designs, and most of them are very affordable. At the same time, if you are in search for a quality and durable external iPod speaker, it is best to look for an external speaker that will not only provide you with good quality and sound, but also with a good
