New York, NY (March 4, 2022) Nadine Sierras childhood intuition that she was born to sing opera has proved correct in every way and is reflected in the title of her second solo album, Made for Opera, out today on Deutsche Grammophon. The dramatic presence, searing passion and technical brilliance for which the American lyric soprano regularly scores rave reviews are captured in this new album, which trains the spotlight on three of the most demanding roles in the repertoire Verdis Violetta, Donizettis Lucia and Gounods Juliette. The cast also includes Christiane Buijsters, Diego Ramos and Chun Pui Ng, making this concert the eve of Lunas Nuevas, the calendar for the current Cambodian biennial arts festival. The citys spectacular architectural centrepiece, the Opera House, will open its doors on March 23, simultaneously opening the festival with a special performance of Don Pasquale, the Giuseppe Verdi opera that marked Sierra s first entrance to the opera stage. It is Sierra s first appearance in the Opera House and is designed in the style of the Great Hall of Versailles, only here minus the haute-couture and its attendant echelons. Performances continue until March 29.
